WASHINGTON:

Friday, May 15.

A meeting of the Senate of Washington was held on Thursday the 14th, for the purpose of taking into consideration the report of the Joint Committee on the first section of the Constitution. The Senators present were Senator Lodge of New York, Senator Butler of Ohio, and Senator Conkling of New York.

At the meeting, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Senate do salute the Secretary of the Navy, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Secretary of the Interior, as follows:

Secretary of the Navy:

The Secretary of the Navy is hereby addressed as follows: Senator Lodge of New York.

Secretary of the Treasury:

The Secretary of the Treasury is hereby addressed as follows: Senator Butler of Ohio.

Secretary of the Interior:

The Secretary of the Interior is hereby addressed as follows: Senator Conkling of New York.

DEBATE ON THE MISSOURI BILL.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

[Continued.]

SPEECH OF MR. HUMPHREY.

The debate on the Missouri bill was resumed, and the following amendment was offered: It was moved that the bill be excepted from the operation of this act, and that the Missouri bill be deemed an exception to the provisions of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in support of the amendment, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in reply, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in reply, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in reply, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in reply, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in reply, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in reply, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Humphrey, in reply, said: The amendment is necessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is necessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.

Mr. Smith, in reply, said: The amendment is unnecessary, as the Missouri bill is not an exception to the provisions of this act. The Missouri bill is, in fact, an exception to the provisions of this act, and it is unnecessary that the Missouri bill be excepted from the operation of this act.
MR. HENRY'S SPEECH.

After such an understanding of the subject as might lead to the rejection of the measure, it was not possible for the mover of the resolution to withhold his assent, and he would hear no arguments against the question. He would, therefore, vote for the removal of the restrictions.
EUROPEAN AMERICAN WAR.

FROM FRENCH FOREIGN PAPERS.

To the Editor of the New York Times.

Sir: In the recent events of the Franco-German War, the United States have been too little heard. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. In short, the American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe. The American public will be interested to know the extent to which the United States have been engaged in the war, and the manner in which the United States have been received in Europe.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

[Post script]

[Signature]