WASHINGTON: SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1820.

No. 580.

WASHINGTON.

Friday, February 18.

The debate on the Missouri question, it is presumed, will terminate in the Senate; the bill for the admission of the Territory to the Union being hung up in the other chamber. The Senate, it is expected, will be summoned to the House of Representa- tives for the purpose of perfecting the measure.

The Senate at its last sitting adjourned without taking action. The House of Representatives has adjourned sine die.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.

The public mind is now remarkably turned to the subject of the sectional conflict with Spain. The subject of the Spanish connection is before the Senate this day, and the subject of the peace of the United States and the neutrality of the United States is before the House of Representatives this day. The Senate is to be convened today.